

Wanted River Wardens

Trent Rivers Trust is looking for volunteer 'River Wardens' to help us look after the River Mease.

If you like walking and are interested in the environment then we would like to hear from you.

River Wardens will be allocated their own stretch of river. They are able to observe the river and monitor any changes. We also need them to remove any Himalayan balsam plants they may come across.

Full training and support for the River Warden Scheme is provided by the Trent Rivers Trust.

Important note: You must always have permission from the landowner before walking along a river bank unless it is a Public Right of Way.
