

Population Matters Edmund Davey.

The writer has lived in Edingale for over 40 years. He is a retired primary school teacher experienced over 20 years, and has been working for the educational charity Population Matters since 1998, including as chairman in 2001-2. He now talks to children in local primary schools, and welcomes invitations from more teachers, or individual adults, or groups, to raise the profile of this vital subject. No expenses required.

Contact details:
(01827) 383437
daveyedmund22@hotmail.com

“All environmental problems become harder – and ultimately impossible – to solve with ever more people”

Population Matters patron Sir David Attenborough.

for a sustainable future

www.populationmatters.org
020 8123 9116

NOTE: In the following article I glibly refer to the term ‘billion’, numerically 1,000,000,000. I need to often remind myself that a thousand is ten hundred; that a million is a thousand thousand; and that a billion is a thousand million.